The screenshot shows the EBSCOhost Academic Search Premier interface. At the top, there is a search box with 'Search' and 'Clear' buttons. Below it are links for 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search', 'Visual Search', and 'Search History'. A blue banner reads 'Publications'. Underneath, it says 'Browsing: Academic Search Premier -- Publications' and has a search box with a 'Browse' button. There are radio buttons for 'Alphabetical' (selected), 'By Subject & Description', and 'Match Any Words'. Below that is a pagination bar: 'Page: Previous | Next' and a list of letters 'A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z'. A green bar says 'Mark Items for Search' with an 'Add' button. The main content area lists four journal titles, each with a checkbox, an RSS icon, and details on available records and full text options.

I selected the title list for Academic Search Premier. You can use this search box to find out if the journal, magazine, or newspaper you are looking for is indexed in the database.

Here you can see what time period is available in the database, either in full text, if available, or in bibliographic records.

Journal Title	Available Records	Full Text Options
AAC: Augmentative & Alternative Communication	Bibliographic Records: 06/01/2001 to present
AACN Clinical Issues: Advanced Practice in Acute & Critical Care	Bibliographic Records: 02/01/2002 to 01/31/2006
AANA Journal	Bibliographic Records: 02/01/2001 to present; Full Text: 02/01/2001 to present	PDF Full Text

EBSCOhost Journal Alerts

If you see a “PDF Full Text” or “HTML Full Text” icon below the journal title, then at least some portion of the coverage provided by the database will be available to print immediately. It is important to note that you can’t always get the entire run of a journal in full text. It all depends on the publisher and how much they have made available. Publishers also sometimes place an “embargo” on full text content, delaying its availability for varying amount of time. You can still create alerts for journals that aren’t full text, but in order to get the article you will have to submit an interlibrary loan request.
